

ROAD WORK IN KENTUCKY AND WEST VIRGINIA

Washington, Jan. 7.—Kentucky will spend $1,500,000 for its roads this season, according to the highway bill passed by the public roads and rural engineering bureau for the Department of Agriculture.

It is estimated, however, that about 50 per cent. of this amount will go to labor.

The Department of Agriculture estimates that $300,000,000 is immediately needed for the construction of roads in this country.

West Virginia will spend about $16,000,000 on new roads this year, it is estimated.

HERSEL VANHOOSE'S FIND

Hershel Vanhoose wrote home that he mentioned Louisa while talking to a bunch of soldiers in France and that one stepped up and asked him what he knew about Louisa. Of course Hershel told him enough in a short time and the man said he had a brother living in Louisa known as "Jake the Jew." It was a long time before he had time in writing his parents in Cincinnati, as they had not heard from Julius since the armistice was signed.

SOLD A FARM.

J. P. Gartin has sold a tract of land to James Justice, who lives near Williamson. He will move to it in the spring.

GOOD CHANGE IN BUCHANAN ROAD ACCOMPLISHED

One of the worst obstacles to a good safe roadway from Louisa to Buchanan has been removed by the conclusion of arrangements for right of way and construction of a change near Zeila. The county road crosses the railroad twice within a very short distance, making it a dangerous place. The railroad company will pay $500 toward the cost of the change, by which two dangerous crossings will be eliminated. The road will be thus kept on one side of the railroad track.

HATFIELD WRITES AGAIN.

December 13, 1918.

Dear Father—I have received your letter. This leaves me well, and still at Passavant, France. Don't know just how long we will be here yet, but I think we will leave here soon for some reason. I think I will be at home some time in February.

You wanted me to send you a souvenir. The last battle we were in we were so glad to get back from the front we forgot to bring anything that line though we could have gotten all we could carry. I had a piece of German money, but I sent it to Jay. I have a pair of piers I took away from a German. I will bring them back with me.

I am enclosing an official typewritten copy of the battle we have been in. Don't lose this copy. It is the only one I have. This will be on our service record.

Today is the day that President Wilson was in Louisa in France. I saw where Arlie Bevin was buried before I left the front. We have slept in barns all the time we have been in France; you have no idea what I have gone through since I have been over here. I have gone thirty days without washing my hands or face; I have waded through floods to my ankles; I have walked over hills on dead men. I will tell you the rest when I get home.

Your soldier boy.

PVT. WILLIE HATFIELD.
Co. A, 11th Inf. U. S. A. P. O. 765.
Headquarters, 2nd Division
America, E. F.

For units other than infantry regiments and machine gun battalions whose participation was general and not in a specific action, the following notation will be made on the service records:

8th October to 25th October, 1918, campaign north of Verdun.

By command of Major General Marton Official:

George Scott Stewart, Jr.,
Adjutant General.

W. S. BOWERS,
Lt. Colonel, General Staff,
Acting Chief of Staff.

GREENUP YOUTH WAS DROWNED

Frank Bennett Taylor of Greenup, age 19 years, was drowned Sunday morning while skating on the backwater near his home. His body was recovered within a short time of his death. Young Taylor was one of Greenup's brightest and finest boys. He was a son of Mrs. Sallie Bennett Young and had but recently returned home from Cincinnati where he was a member of the S. A. T. C. which he entered in the hope that he would be quickly prepared to enter the great war.

Frank Bennett was a nephew of Judge J. B. Bennett.

V. BARRETT DIES.

Mrs. J. H. Woods received a message Saturday announcing the death of her brother, Mr. Virgil Barrett, of Richmond, Va. His death was due to influenza from which he has been suffering only a few days. Burial took place at Richmond, last summer visiting Mrs. Woods.

WELCOME HOME RECEPTION.

There will be a reception at the court house on Friday evening, January 17, in honor of our soldiers who have returned. The Louisa Public School will furnish the music and some interesting speeches will be made. We want to see every soldier in Louisa and to be present and to know that we welcome you home. All are invited.

Miss Klara Burns will leave Sunday.

Miss Klara Burns will leave Sunday morning for her home in New York City. She will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. M. W. Williams.

ASHLAND INDEPENDENT IS RAPIDLY FORGING AHEAD

The Ashland Independent has installed a new press that has a capacity for printing forty thousand complete copies of their paper in one hour. This is a very enterprising move and puts the Independent in position to meet all demands for many years to come.

AT RED CROSS ROOMS.

Announcement was made last Sunday from the pupils of the churches of Louisa that women were needed in the Red Cross rooms to do sewing. The women responded nobly and usual and each afternoon and evening they have met and worked. They have already completed many garments for a shipment which is to be made by February 1.

HARLAN BLACKBURN SAFE.

A letter has been received from Harlan Blackburn written Nov. 24th informing his parents that he is all right and hopes to be home soon. He is a son of Layton Blackburn, R. D. 1, Louisa. He was a machine gunner and had been in the front for several weeks previous and there was considerable uneasiness about him.

FARMERS WEEK IMPORTANT TO US

I should like to bring to the attention of the farmers of the county Farmers Week, which will be held at Lexington, Ky., Jan. 28, 29, 30 and 31, 1919, and impress upon you the importance of this meeting.

The sole purpose of this meeting is to bring together all the leading farmers of the State for a few days of consultation and review of the farming conditions of the State and to formulate plans for the future. There you will meet the leading farmers and breeders of the state. The lectures, demonstrations and special features will be of great value to farmers. Woman's work will be made a prominent feature of the week.

Every thing is free and everybody is welcome. I say frankly that I believe it will pay any farmer in Lawrence county to attend this meeting, because of the good he will get from the suggestions, lectures, demonstrations and the opportunity to get acquainted with farmers from every section of the state. I expect to attend myself and will be glad to have any of the farmers go down with me, and if you want to know any further particulars of the meeting write to me and I shall be glad to assist you.

Yours respectfully,
O. C. BAKER, County Agent.

G. B. CHAPMAN DIED OF PNEUMONIA

Charles Ben Chapman passed away at his home at Normal at ten-thirty Sunday morning, his death resulting from pneumonia following influenza. Mr. Chapman was 39 years of age. He was a telegraph operator employed by the C. & O. and had charge of the Clayfield tower. As an employee of the C. & O. he was very devoted to his duty and his wholesome nature and genial disposition made him a favorite with the railroad men.

Mr. Chapman is survived by his wife and two children, all of whom are very ill of influenza. His father, Ed. Chapman, also survives. On Tuesday afternoon at one-thirty the funeral service was conducted at the Ashland cemetery where interment was made. The Masonic Lodge of Catlettsburg officiated at the burial service.

Mr. Chapman's family resided on Lake Park and he was moved to Normal.

COL. ROOSEVELT DIES SUDDENLY

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, for seven years President of the United States, statesman, soldier, author, explorer, sportsman and red-blooded American, died suddenly at his home in Oyster Bay, Monday morning at 4:15 o'clock. Although he has been in poor health for several months and had been under treatment at a New York hospital, his family, his friends and the country were entirely unprepared for his sudden passing, for within the last few days there had been no indications that the end was near. Death was due, according to his physicians, to a blood clot on the lung, which was due indirectly to an attack of inflammatory rheumatism and to a fever which he contracted during his journey of exploration in South American jungles. "Put out the light, please," were his last words and those uttered by his faithful negro aide, Joseph Amos, who later noted the heavy breathing of the former President and summoned his physician, Dr. William M. Roosevelt, the nurse and the family physician arrived at the bedside, life was extinct. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the Oyster Bay home and at the Christ Episcopal church in that village. Both funeral and burial were simple and private.

E. B. HAGER ENJOYS Y. M. C. A. IN FRANCE

We publish the following extracts from letters received by a hotel at Hager, of this place, from her father, Edgar B. Hager:

Aix les Bains, France.

Am almost myself again having regained nearly all my strength and health after 36 or 40 pounds I lost during my illness. This is a very pleasant place to stay. There are always a lot of men here on leave and something new all the time. Before the war this was a famous watering place and health resort frequented by the Royalty of Europe and the wealthy of all lands. The casino now is a gambling resort where fortunes were won and lost in a night much as at Monte Carlo. It is said that on one occasion the infamous Harry Thaw lost a half million dollars here in one sitting. There is a multitude of hotels here and my how they do stick you! I am paying $100 a day at a hotel here. Everything else is correspondingly high. A dish of ice cream costs 40c and as ordinary bottle of lemon pop 25c.

There is not a dull moment for the soldier here during his seven day leave, all the expenses of which are paid by the government. It is certainly a wonderful place to come for the boys who have been for months in the trenches and who have endured the hardships and dangers of the front line. I have taken a great interest in the place, the work and the men and believe me there is much for all of us to do to take care of the men who come here, as we might say, as we are guests. They all leave here delighted with their week of entertainment.

I guess there was much rejoicing in the states when the news of the conclusion of the armistice was received. Many a heart of a soldier's mother was made glad to know that the fighting and danger were over. As for me I can scarcely realize that it is. It seems like a dream even while I am here in the midst of those who rejoice that the war has ended.

Have run across only two boys from our section of the country, Boyd Crouse and John Gish of Ashland. The only other Kentuckian I have met is a Captain Caldwell who was in the front during the war. Two of the men who came over in our party have died of pneumonia—one a young fellow from Louisville.

Monday I leave here for Nice, the beautiful city of extreme South France, on the Mediterranean Sea. It is a delightful winter resort and I consider myself very fortunate in being assigned to this place as it will be very pleasant to spend the winter in a climate as mild as Florida or southern California. This place has been designated as a leave area for soldiers from the front and I will be placed in charge of one of the departments of Y. M. C. A. activities. I shall remain there probably till February or March. Next spring I think I shall go back to getting up on the old battle line and seeing something of the real effect of the war. I have had the pleasure of meeting hundreds of soldiers from all over the U. S. and my work has been with the hotel and entertainment departments. The hotel department meets the boys at the train, guides them to the place and cordially welcomes, assigns them their hotels and sees to it that they are comfortably located and satisfactorily fed. The entertainment department looks after the matter of providing indoor and outdoor amusements. It is very interesting and congenial work. Thus far my experience has been more of that of a vacationist than a laborer. It takes a long time to mail to come from home over here—about a month for letters and for papers longer.

85 PER CENT. OF U. S. WOUNDED RECOVER

Washington, January 7.—Of 7114 wounds received by the American Expeditionary hospitals between January 15 and October 15, 1918, 85.3 per cent. recovered and returned to duty, the War Department announced today. The percentage of deaths was 8.3.

LAWRENCE COUNTY NURSE WRITES FROM FLANDERS

Flanders in Belgium.

Mrs. Lizzie Skaggs,
Terryville, Kentucky.

My Dear Sister—I will tell you something about my work. Nursing in Belgium is a very interesting and interesting for the brave boys who were fighting for home and country. When we enter the hospital to perform our duty we are greeted with a smile and happy "good morning" from the sick in bed. We begin our daily work. As such as dressing the wounds, giving the medicine to relieve pain, making them comfortable, taking the temperatures and seeing the hungry are fed. We can work for hours without feeling tired for we know we are making others happy.

I have seen very few boys die of the death rate is small after they reach the hospital. Though when I gaze upon the dead my heart aches for the dear mothers who are waiting for their boys who will never come home. We know they have not died in vain, they gave their lives that democracy may not perish from the earth. So we try to know them for the great deed they have done.

I have seen soldiers of many nations marching through the streets. I also have seen the refugees who have been away for four years returning seeking their homes.

There is a great change over here since the armistice was signed. The guns have ceased to roar at night, the lights can burn when before on a bright moonlight night we would hear the call, "Lights out, an air raid is on." When we were near the front we had to carry gas masks and have our helmets ready.

There are now no more soldiers in the front lines. The boys are now looking toward the home and the mothers who are waiting for their boys who will never come home.

TUSCOLA.

There will be church at this place next Sunday night, January 12th by Rev. Harvey and others. Won't you come and bring someone with you. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Graham of Ashland are visiting here.
